

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary

Adnoorak

Events involving PS Oscar W normally based at Goolwa Port, South Australia.
Sorted by Date (Latest>>>Earliest)

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2017-04-23 WB

www.youtube.com/watch?v=mFhu9f4ZAfU

Adnoorak

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2017-04-23 WB

On Sunday 23rd April 2017, we joined fellow boat, steam and train enthusiasts attending the second day of the South Australian Wooden Boat Festival at the River Port of Goolwa.

This event included a large array of activities and displays including a focus on steam, motor, wind and person powered wooden boats; many, if not most, having some age and interesting history.

This video contains snippets of the wooden boats on display, in action, and other festival support activities.

This video was rendered in 4K.

See also Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2017-04-23 BTT (which includes boat, train and horse drawn tram activities) and Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2017-04-23 SR (which includes snippets of SteamRanger's Rx207 steam locomotive hauling 'The Cockle Train' between Goolwa and Victor Harbor, and their 'Red Hen' set (334 – 824 – 412) from Victor Harbor to Goolwa.)

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2017-04-23 BTT

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=11-IEas4uYI>

Adnoorak

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2017-04-23 BTT

On Sunday 23rd April 2017, we joined fellow boat, steam and train enthusiasts attending the second day of the South Australian Wooden Boat Festival at the River Port of Goolwa.

This event included a large array of activities and displays including a focus on steam, motor, wind and person powered wooden boats; many, if not most, having some age and interesting history.

A unique fact at the River Port of Goolwa is that people can, at the water's edge, take a ride on a steam driven paddle boat and/or on a steam locomotive hauled train. Further to this, that same train can convey people to nearby Victor Harbor via Middleton and Port Elliot, where a horse drawn tram ride can be taken across the wooden causeway at Victor Harbor out to Granite Island and return.

This video contains snippets of P.S. Oscar "W" at Goolwa, SteamRanger's Rx207 steam locomotive hauling 'The Cockle Train' between Goolwa and Victor Harbor, and the Horse Drawn Trams at Victor Harbor.

(BTT = Boat Train Tram)

See also Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2017-04-23 WB This video contains snippets of the wooden boats on display, in action, and other festival support activities. (WB = Wooden Boats)

Video rendered in 4K.

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2013-02-24 3D

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SYIkJ_RHPR4

On Saturday 23rd and Sunday 24th of February 2013, we joined fellow tourists and enthusiasts at Goolwa, South Australia, to engage in activities at the 2013 South Australian Wooden Boat Festival.

Activities included SteamRanger's "Cockle Train" hauled by broad-gauge steam locomotive 621, "Duke of Edinburgh".

This video clip contains snippets of different activities on day 2 of 2.

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2013-02-24 2D

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=gqlpGcLpmb0>

On Saturday 23rd and Sunday 24th of February 2013, we joined fellow tourists and enthusiasts at Goolwa, South Australia, to engage in activities at the 2013 South Australian Wooden Boat Festival.

Activities included SteamRanger's "Cockle Train" hauled by broad-gauge steam locomotive 621, "Duke of Edinburgh".

This video clip contains snippets of different activities on day 2 of 2.

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary

Adnoorak

Events involving PS Oscar W normally based at Goolwa Port, South Australia.
Sorted by Date (Latest>>>Earliest)

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2013-02-23 3D

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uKjlo6p3qM>

On Saturday 23rd and Sunday 24th of February 2013, we joined fellow tourists and enthusiasts at Goolwa, South Australia, to engage in activities at the 2013 South Australian Wooden Boat Festival.

Activities included SteamRanger's "Cockle Train" hauled by broad-gauge steam locomotive 621, "Duke of Edinburgh".

This video clip contains snippets of different activities on day 1 of 2.

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2013-02-23 2D

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XpIBct1b-fQ>

On Saturday 23rd and Sunday 24th of February 2013, we joined fellow tourists and enthusiasts at Goolwa, South Australia, to engage in activities at the 2013 South Australian Wooden Boat Festival.

Activities included SteamRanger's "Cockle Train" hauled by broad-gauge steam locomotive 621, "Duke of Edinburgh".

This video clip contains snippets of different activities on day 1 of 2.

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2012-09-09

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ICi9X0MLJ-g>

On Sunday, 09/09/2012, we joined several thousand fellow enthusiasts and tourists at Mildura (Murray River, Victoria, Australia) to participate in the PS Melbourne Centenary River Festival.

This video clip captured snippets of the day's activities and features the following vessels: PS Adelaide (Echuca), PB Amphibious (Mannum), PB Coonawarra (Mildura), PS Industry (Renmark), PB Iron Dry (), PS James Maiden (Wentworth), PB Kulkyne (), PS Marion (Mannum), PB Matthew James (), PS Melbourne (Mildura), PS Minimus (Geelong), PB Mundoo (Mildura), PS Oscar W (Goolwa), PB Rothbury (Mildura), PB Settler (Mildura), PB Tamara Rae (Morook), and SB 'I' toot ().

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2012-07-26 3D

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=amj-q-zfiLU>

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2012-07-26 3D

"A blast of steam whistles" is a random collection of steam whistle clips (train and boats) featured in many video clips that I have already uploaded to YouTube.

This is an updated version of Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 2012-07-26, with some extra whistles and the material is digitally altered from 2D to provide a 3D effect.

Train Enthusiast's Video Diary 1988-10-09

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LcY1OMPliK4>

On 09/10/1988, SteamRanger ran its "Southern Encounter" tourist train from Adelaide Terminal (Keswick, South Australia) to Victor Harbor, South Australia, and return, hauled by its ex-South Australian Railways, broad-gauge, steam locomotive 520.

SteamRanger also ran its "Cockle Train" with several trips between Goolwa (South Australia) and Victor Harbor, hauled by its ex-SAR, broad-gauge, steam locomotive Rx207.

In addition to the steam train activity, the Goolwa Port was busy with its festival of steam boats which included PS Oscar W and PS Mundoo.